The commercial over boots improve diver safety and extend the working life of all types of diving suit, even in the roughest conditions, by protecting the lower extremities from sharp and abrasive materials and impacts. Wearing the boots with the 'optional' lead insoles, ensures a more secure foothold for the diver and also greatly reduces the risk of a 'feet-first' ascent.

The specification set for these boots is uncompromisingly high.Â

Specifically designed to counter the rigours of commercial diving, the diver is assured of a far higher degree of protection than can be expected from other footwear inappropriately adapted for diving.
